Basabo, Dhaka, Bangladesh

hello I'm Zinan. I'm a front end web developer. I've been polishing my skills since last 3 years, And i specialize in helping company's and entrepreneurs grow their buiseness by providing them astonishing websites. And in the last few years I've alone helped dozens of clients in over 4 different industries, And in on average i've been able to help my clients to really grow their influence on social media by creating luscious websites in less than 6 months.

My real strength is in my ability to understand what my clients really wants. I prior myself on my reputation to creating, engaging and compelling websites that i'm sure your audience will love and want to share.

What i'm looking for is a company/individual that i could give value to, that i could produce a positive impact, Where i could join a strong team. Is this what youre looking for?.

REGRADS,
